

Jordan Luloff is a Chicago-based saxophonist that specializes in the performance of music by living composers. In addition to his solo engagements, Jordan is a founding member of ~Nois, a Chicago-based saxophone quartet that defies categorization by working between the boundary of contemporary classical music and experimental improvisation.

Jordan has been the featured soloist with the United States Air Force Band, University of Memphis Wind Ensemble, and the Lansing and Ann Arbor Community Concert Bands. As the Tenor Saxophonist of ~Nois, Jordan is in demand as a guest artist and lecturer at universities across the nation. Additionally, the group has been featured on festivals such as Big Ears, the Continuum Music Festival, the Re:Sound Festival, the Great Lakes Chamber Music Festival, and Omaha Under the Radar.

He currently serves as Applied Instructor of Classical Saxophone at The University of Illinois Chicago.